Guide for teachers and questionnaire for students

Guideline

In order to achieve a satisfactory response rate and meaningful results, we recommend handing out the questionnaire directly to the students and collecting it again immediately after completing it. It is also an advantage if you personally inform the students in advance about the goals and the process of the questionnaire evaluation.

The teachers ...

- ... draw a personal conclusion from the dialogue with the students.
 - ... derive measures from this and implement them independently.
 - ... discuss the measures with the students.
 - ... check the results and discuss them in the employee appraisal.
